DeLisio Moran Geraghty & Zobel, P.C.

A substantial portion of DMGZ's litigation practice is devoted to professional liability, including attorney malpractice. The leading case on attorney malpractice in this jurisdiction was tried by DMGZ. See Bohna v. Hughes Thorsness, et al., 828 P.2d 745 (Alaska 1992). Since that time, the firm has continued to have an active practice representing attorneys, as well as architects, engineers and other design professionals.

Mr. Geraghty regularly confers with both attorneys accused of malpractice, and insurers involved with those exposures. He heads the firm's litigation practice and is a member of the IADC and FDCC. He has tried cases in Anchorage, Fairbanks, Barrow, Dillingham and Kenai. A list of his reported cases can be found at the firm's web site, www.dmgz.com.

www.fisherlawfirm.com

Fisher, Rushmer, Werrenrath, Dickson, Talley & Dunlap, P.A. has represented the specialized and complex interests of insurance companies and their insureds in Florida and nationally for twenty-one years.

Their insurance work substantially includes representing insurance carriers in professional malpractice insurance coverage matters. This includes representing insurance companies by preparing detailed insurance coverage opinion letters related to such issues as a carrier's duty to defend and/or indemnify its insured and the prosecution and defense of declaratory judgment actions statewide where we represent these insurance carriers in coverage litigations.

The firm devotes a substantial portion of its practice to the defense and representation of the professional insureds themselves, including specifically attorneys in malpractice and disciplinary matters brought by both former clients and third parties. The founding shareholder, John Fisher, has over forty years experience in this area. Lora Dunlap, a named shareholder, has over twenty-five years experience. Jon Oden, a shareholder, has over eleven years of experience. Each has devoted a substantial portion of his or her practice to the successful defense of law firms, from the solo practitioner single plaintiff case to the large national law firm class action alike, and is proud to have successfully represented judges and lawyers in these cases throughout Florida.

The firm understands the unique challenge presented in the defense of lawyers. Fisher Rushmer is proud to be situated at the forefront currently of the evolution of Florida common law as it relates to several legal doctrines which are critical to the successful defense of these professionals. This includes the privity doctrine; i.e., under what circumstances a non-client can sue a lawyer for professional negligence; and the judgmental immunity doctrine, under what situations the strategic tactical decisions of attorneys are actionable.

Locke Reynolds' Insurance Services Group serves the highly-specialized needs of insurance companies that conduct business in Indiana. Locke Reynolds' attorneys work with representatives of stock and mutual insurance companies, and partially self-insured companies, on a wide range of corporate and regulatory issues.

Disputes typically involve policyholders, third-party claimants or other insurance companies (generally in determination of responsibility for primary and secondary coverage). Many can be resolved through arbitration or mediation. Others can only be resolved through litigation. Locke Reynolds' attorneys have defended clients in local, state and federal trial and appellate courts, as well as in prosecuting their claims in cases of suspected arson or insurance fraud. They also represent client-companies, along with their brokers and agents, before the Indiana Department of Insurance, in investigations of claims of unfair or improper practices.

Professional liability matters (including legal, architectural, real estate, accountant, insurance agent and broker malpractice) represent a substantial portion of Locke Reynolds' insurance defense work. Locke Reynolds currently has nearly 150 active professional liability files, with slightly over half involving legal malpractice. Further, their commitment to, and experience with, professional liability files is demonstrated by the fact that one of their attorneys who handles legal malpractice cases has provided risk management seminars to over 750 attorneys in the last three years. Professional liability clients include CNA, Lawyers Protector Plan, Bar Plan Mutual Insurance Company, Great American Insurance Group, Interstate Insurance Group, Star Insurance Company, Monitor Liability Insurance Company and St. Paul Insurance Company.

Mr. Kasper has represented attorneys and accountants throughout Indiana for 27 years. His clients have ranged from sole practitioner to some of the largest firms in the state. He has also presented numerous risk management seminars to lawyers around the state.

Mr. Roberts has more than 25 years of experience representing attorneys in legal malpractice and related tort litigation, and defending attorneys in disciplinary matters.

Mr. Daerr has practiced in the area of professional malpractice defense for 15 years, during which, he has represented attorneys, accountants, and physicians throughout the state of Indiana.

Ms. Gelinis was a member of the Indiana State Supreme Court Disciplinary Commission for 10 years, and served as Chair for two years. Additionally, she has represented attorneys appearing before that commission.

Mr. Brackenridge has over eight years of experience representing attorneys in attorney malpractice cases. He also has extensive experience representing both attorneys and collection agencies in Fair Debt Collection Practices Act class action litigation. He also provides defense for architects facing professional malpractice allegations.

Ahlers & Cooney and its predecessor partnerships have been practicing law in Des Moines, Iowa, since 1887. Lawyers in the Firm hold law degrees from the Cornell, Drake, Georgetown, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan, North Dakota, Valparaiso, and Washburn law schools. The Firm provides a wide range of legal services to state, national and international clients. In recognition of the quality of its services, the Firm receives frequent referrals and requests for assistance from colleagues in the legal, accounting, education and insurance professions. As part of the Firm's commitment to the legal profession, Firm attorneys serve in numerous positions in local, state and national bar associations. The Firm is located at 100 Court Avenue in Des Moines, Iowa. The 100 Court Avenue Building is on the National Register of Historic Places and has been renovated as a historic landmark. The location is convenient to the State Capitol complex, Polk County and Federal Courthouses, and Federal, County and City office buildings.

The Firm's litigation department has a long and distinguished reputation in trial and appellate practice at both the federal and state level. The Firm's emphasis in trial practice is primarily in civil litigation, ranging from the simple negligence case to complex commercial litigation. The Firm serves as trial counsel for a wide variety of national and multinational corporations, as well as established Iowa businesses when these companies are involved in litigation throughout the State of Iowa. The Firm also represents a number of property casualty insurance companies and individual self-insured clients. The litigation attorneys have extensive courtroom experience in all types of civil suits including antitrust cases, civil rights actions, constitutional law issues, educational law matters, employee benefits, employment contract cases and tort claims, environmental litigation, ERISA litigation, municipal law issues, personal injury and property damage cases, product liability cases, professional liability claims, public utility law, real estate matters, construction cases, land use litigation, social security issues, and workers' compensation matters. Ahlers & Cooney's litigation department provides breadth and depth of experience to defend today's varied litigation matters. Our experienced trial attorneys regularly handle jury trials, bench trials, bankruptcy proceedings, arbitrations, mediations and administrative and regulatory proceedings. Our litigation group also has extensive experience in dispute resolution outside the court room. Several of our attorneys have served as mediators and/or arbitrators. Our senior trial counselors are seasoned lawyers, including several lawyers with more than 20 years of trial experience.

Several attorneys are members of the Fellows of American College of Trial Lawyers. A number of the Firm's litigation partners and associates are former law clerks for judges on the Eighth Circuit Court of Appeals, United States District Court and the Iowa Supreme Court.

David H. Luginbill was born in South Bend, Indiana, on January 31, 1951. He received his B.A. in 1973 from the University of Iowa and his J.D. with honors in 1976 from Drake University. Stites & Harbison began defending professionals over one hundred years ago and never stopped. While the firm has defended professional of all shapes and sizes, it places a special emphasis on defending attorneys. Not only do we defend lawyers and their firms in malpractice actions, but we work with them before claims are filed to resolve potential problems. It is not uncommon for our lawyers to be contacted by other attorneys, or their insurance carriers, to investigate potential claims before suit is even contemplated. The lawyers at Stites & Harbison will attempt to resolve disputes between their clients and their adversaries at every opportunity, but will try cases if our clients' best interests would be served.

Lawyers as Stites & Harbison are actively involved in the Kentucky Defense Counsel, the Defense Research Institute's Professional Liability Committee, the Professional Liability Underwriting Society, the Association of Professional Responsibility Lawyers, and other entities focused on the law of lawyering. Representative clients include Lawyers Mutual Insurance of Kentucky, Great American Insurance Company, Administrators for the Professions of Delaware, Professionals Direct and Zurich. We proudly represent lawyers from all walks of life – big firms or small, plaintiff's counsel or defense, and everywhere in between.

Matt Breetz, a Member of the firm's Louisville office, currently serves on the Kentucky Defense Counsel's Board of Directors, and is a member of APRL and PLUS. He has tried about thirty jury trials to verdict. Matt serves on his firm's ethics committee, and frequently speaks on issues of professional liability and legal malpractice. He also serves on the Steering Committee of DRI's Professional Liability Committee.

John Famularo, a Member of the firm based in its Lexington office, currently serves as co-chair of the firm's Litigation Service Group. Cook, Yancey, King & Galloway is the preeminent defense firm in north Louisiana. Furthermore, it is the largest full-service law firm based north of Baton Rouge. Throughout north Louisiana, CYKG has unparalleled experience defending professionals, including attorneys, judges, physicians, engineers, brokers, and agents. CYKG's attorneys have represented professionals in malpractice actions, contractual disputes, practice dissolutions, and disciplinary complaints. Specifically as to attorney malpractice claims, CYKG has been the preferred firm in northwest Louisiana for the state-bar sponsored legal malpractice program for well over twenty-five years. CYKG has represented solo practitioners, small partnerships, and large firms. Moreover, the underlying claims in its legal malpractice cases have had diverse backgrounds, ranging from simple matters to the very complex. Such underlying claims have included personal injury actions, criminal tax charges, wills, trusts, and commercial transactions.

CYKG's attorneys pride themselves on working closely with both the professional and his insurer, while striving to exceed the expectations of both. CYKG has the expertise to identify those disputes which call for early resolution, and the trial experience to vigorously and successfully defend its clients in court.

CYKG's representative insurer clients include CNA-PRO, Westport Insurance Company, Coregis Insurance Company, ALAS, and Employers Reinsurance Corporation. Herschel E. Richard, Jr. is the senior partner at CYKG. He has a complex practice, involving business litigation, toxic torts, products liability, and legal and medical malpractice. He has practiced law for over thirty-five years. He is a Fellow of the American College of Trial Lawyers, the International Society of Barristers, and the Louisiana Bar Foundation. He is a member of and past-president of the Louisiana Association of Defense Counsel. He is also a member of the Council of the Louisiana State Law Institute. He was the 2000 recipient of the Curtis R. Boisfontaine Trial Advocacy Award given by the Louisiana State Bar Association. He is the only north Louisiana lawyer listed by Best Lawyers in America in the field of legal malpractice. He is AV rated.

Lee H. Ayres is the managing director of CYKG's Litigation Division. A significant portion of his practice is dedicated to defending professionals, including lawyers, physicians, and agents. He has seventeen years of experience with handling numerous professional liability claims. He has authored papers and given lectures on subjects involving professional liability claims. He has served on the Board of Directors, as well as the Executive Committee, for the Louisiana Association of Business & Industry. He has served on the Board of Directors of the Louisiana Association of Defense Counsel. He currently serves as a faculty member of the Louisiana Association of Defense Counsel's Trial Academy. He is listed in the Best Lawyers in America and is AV rated.

Brian A. Homza has had over twenty-five years trial experience. His practice includes defense of first party insurance claims, including coverage issues, fire claims, and commercial claims, including business interruption loss. He also defends professional liability claims, including insurance agents and brokers and real estate agents. He is a member of the Louisiana Association of Defense Counsel, the Defense Research Institute, International Association of Arson Investigators, and the Insurance Committee on Arson Control. He has been asked to lecture and provide papers on the defense of arson claims by the Alcohol, Tobacco & Firearms and the Louisiana State Bar Association. He is AV rated. In addition to his experience and expertise as a trial attorney, Mr. Homza is also an accomplished mediator.

The Rodey Law Firm has unique capabilities in professional liability defense in New Mexico. We have a long-standing Professional Liability Practice Group of experienced litigators who deal exclusively with professional malpractice, disciplinary, and ethics litigation and consultation. We represent lawyers, accountants, real estate brokers, engineers, insurance agents and other non-medical professionals. We are similarly experienced in insurance coverage representation in these areas.

The Professional Liability Practice Group served for a number of years as primary defense counsel in New Mexico for the Home Insurance Company, which traditionally insured the majority of the New Mexico Bar. With the demise of Home, we now represent the insureds of Camico, CNA, Safeco, DPIC, ALPS, Lawyer Protector Plan, Navigators, Zurich, and others. We have successfully represented professional malpractice defendants in courts and disciplinary proceedings throughout the state. We believe that our familiarity with professional liability issues coupled with our skill as litigators and our long-time experience with judges and juries throughout the state enables us to provide our clients with cost effective representation in even the most complex matters.

Jack Brant is a director in the Albuquerque office. He practices in the litigation department with an emphasis on attorney and accountant professional liability defense, asbestos litigation, insurance coverage and bad faith litigation, and general commercial litigation. Clients include DPIC, ALPS, Lawyers Protector Plan, CNA, Zurich and Safeco.

Hurwitz & Fine, P.C. has successfully represented legal professionals in the defense of malpractice claims since its founding in 1977. We are known in Western New York as “Special Counsel to the Profession” and are consulted regularly in potentially litigious matters by other law firms. A thorough knowledge of the responsibilities, governance, and licensing requirements of the profession and a clear understanding of numerous areas of law to comprehend the underlying matters has proven key. Our corporate department has extensive experience in real estate, bankruptcy and corporate law that has served as an excellent internal resource for our firm. While called upon regularly to defend these matters, we are also often consulted by other law firms and carriers who seek coverage opinions in relation to these complex professional liability claims.

The head of the firm’s Professional Liability Malpractice Team is Harry F. Mooney who is active in numerous local and national professional liability organizations. He is a member of the International Association of Defense Counsel and is past Chairman of its Legal Malpractice Committee; he serves on the Professionals’ Officers’ & Directors’ Liability Committee of the Torts and Insurance Practice Section (TIPS) of the American Bar Association and is a member of the Professional Liability Committee of the Defense Research Institute and a member of the Professional Liability Underwriters Society (PLUS). He has authored articles and made numerous presentations on legal malpractice and professional liability topics.

Mr. Mooney is the former Chairman of the Professional Continuity & Responsibility Committee and is a member of the Ethics Committee of the Erie County Bar Association; the Torts, Insurance, and Compensation Law Section of the New York State Bar Association; former Chairman of the New York State Bar Association Special Committee to Improve the Civil Justice System and former Vice Chair of the New York State Bar Association Civil Practice Law and Rules Committee; and is past President of the Defense Trial Lawyers Association of Western New York. Mr. Mooney is so highly regarded in the courts that he has served on the Magistrate Merit Selection Panel for screening applicants and making recommendations for Magistrate Judge appointments for the Western District of New York.

The other members of the team, including Michael F. Perley, Andrea Schillaci, Scott C. Billman and Alisa A. Lukasiewicz have all worked extensively in the defense of legal malpractice matters in state courts and when necessary, have handled matters at the appellate level.

Hermes Sargent Bates, a full-service commercial firm and the largest firm in Texas with a female name partner, works with a wide array of local, national, and international clients in the risk, manufacturing, services, and commercial sectors. Recently named the sixth fastest growing firm in Texas by Texas Lawyer, the firm handles a wide range of cases, including: accounting malpractice, appellate & litigation support, banking & finance, bankruptcy & creditors' rights, commercial litigation, construction litigation, employment & labor, healthcare, insurance, legal malpractice and grievance defense, mass tort litigation, medical malpractice, premises liability, products liability, professional liability, real estate, transportation, and workers' compensation. The attorneys also have a broad depth of experience in advising clients on non-litigation matters.

Any business that requires specialized training or education is subject to professional liability lawsuits. Claims of malpractice go beyond the medical profession to lawyers, accountants, insurance agents, architects, real estate agents and more. The best defense against professional liability is to prevent it. Professional liability has always been a significant part of HSB's practice. If you are a professional, we can help you identify potential problems and develop safeguards to prevent claims. And if an issue does arise, we will aggressively defend your interests. Our attorneys have worked on hundreds of legal malpractice claims, tried over a dozen with very favorable results, and have been instrumental in developing laws governing attorney conduct and liability. One of the fastest growing areas of the practice has been defending accountants in a wide variety of claims, which have significantly increased in recent years. We also have an active practice in defending insurance agents, real estate agents, architects, and engineers.

Mr. Hermes, name partner, is Immediate Past President and a board member of The Harmonie Group, an elected member of the International Association of Defense Counsel in which he is a member of the Legal Malpractice and Products Liability Committees and Chairman of the Membership Committee for Northeast Texas, a Fellow of the Texas Bar Foundation, the original Chairman of the Advisory Panel of the Tort Litigation and Insurance Committee of the General Counsel's Management Practices Forum, a member of the ABA Litigation and Construction Industry Sector, a member of the Dallas Bar Association's Construction Section, an associate member of the Defense Research Institute, on the Texas Association of Defense Counsel, on the Dallas Association of Defense Counsel, rated AV by Martindale-Hubbell, a Barrister of the William Mac Taylor 112th Inn of Court, and a two-time Texas Monthly "Texas Super Lawyer." In regards to legal malpractice, Mr. Hermes has authored and co-authored papers on legal malpractice and litigation skills. He is co-author of "Leveling the Legal Malpractice Playing Field: Reverse Bifurcation of Trials" to be published in the upcoming issue of the St. Mary's Law Journal. He also spoke as a panelist in the Spring of 2005 at the Fourth Annual Symposium on Legal Malpractice and Professional Liability. He has lectured on trends in legal malpractice defense and professional liability. He has taught at legal ethics and malpractice prevention seminars and has been a faculty member for the Texas Association of Defense Counsel's Annual Trial Academy.

Having handled hundred of legal malpractice cases during his career for individual practitioners and for all sizes of law firms, Mr. Hermes has tried numerous legal malpractice cases to successful defense verdicts. He has acted as trial counsel on the following published legal opinions addressing issues in the legal malpractice arena: Byrd v. Woodruff, 891 S.W.2d 689 (Tex. App.--Dallas 1994, writ dismiss'd by agr.); Mackie v. McKenzie, 890 S.W.2d 632 (Tex. 1995); General Motors Acceptance Corp. v. Crenshaw, Dupree & Milam, L.L.P., 986 S.W.2d 632 (Tex. App.--El Paso 1998, pet. denied); Douglas v. Delp, 987 S.W.2d 879 (Tex. 1999).

Mr. Tostrud, founding partner, devotes his practice to the defense of lawyers and accountants, and all types of business litigation. In the past 16 years, Mr. Tostrud has represented hundreds of lawyers, from solos to large firms, on legal malpractice and grievance matters. Mr. Tostrud speaks regularly on topics involving legal ethics, risk management, and current professional liability issues. AV rated by Martindale-Hubbell, he is a member of the State Bar of Texas' Litigation Section, a member of the Tort and Insurance Practices Section & Business Litigation Section of the Dallas Bar Association, a member of the ABA Litigation Section and the Professional Liability Committee of the Litigation Section, a member of the Professional Liability Underwriters Society, and a two-time Texas Monthly "Texas Super Lawyer."

Ms. Benavides' practice is devoted to business and commercial litigation, particularly for high tech companies and professionals. Ms. Benavides acts as co-chair for several local and national organizations: Dallas Young Lawyers Association's Membership Committee; south-central region of Lambda Legal Defense; and the Trade Secrets and Unfair Practices Subcommittee for the Business and Commercial Litigation Committee of the Litigation Section of the American Bar Association. Ms. Benavides published several articles this year including, "Corporate Sleuthing: Surveillance of Employee Activities to Prevent Disclosure of Trade Secrets,” and currently serves as Editor for the southern region of the Defense Research Institute fifty state survey of unfair competition law. She was selected one of Dallas' Best Lawyers by D Magazine in 2005, named a "Texas Rising Star" by Texas Monthly, and selected to participate in the 2004/2005 Dallas Young Lawyers Association's Young Leaders Program. Clients include officers and directors for large, privately held investment and high technology companies and local and out of state law and accounting firms.

Mr. Adams focuses his practice on commercial litigation and professional liability, defending businesses and professionals, his legal experience backed by years of CPA work in two of the nation's top firms. Recipient of the American Jurisprudence Award for Legal Research, and the Chamberlain Hrdlicka Award for Federal Income Tax, he is also a member of the ABA, Texas State Bar Association, Dallas Bar Association, and the American Institute of CPAs. Representative experience includes defending officers and directors of public companies in federal district and bankruptcy courts, and defending professionals including accountants with large national firms and local CPA firms.
